TRIUMPH FOR BRIGHTON WIDE RANGE OF BREEDS

Nearly all the judges to officiate at the in dogdom came with the awards at the forty-first annual dog show of the West-Rudson County Kennet Club's show, minster Kennel Club, which will open forty-first annual dog show of the Westminson County Kennel Club's show, which was held in Froemchen's Hall, Union Hill. N. J., last Wednesday night, when three noted judges declared Viola in Italian greyhound, the best toy in the show.

Viola is a fine specimen of her breed, but competing against her were a host of good toys, including many Pome and Pekes, several of which had earned ribbons both here and in England.

Viola is owned by Mrs. R. K. Schmidt of Passaic, and was the only one of her breed shown, and when G. Muss-Arnolt, Alva Rosenberg and Arthur R. Thompson, the judges, awarded her first prise there was much adverse comment by many of the fanciers. The Italian greybound is a rarity in this country and has seldom if ever carned honors outside of his own breed.

Show a Success.

The officials of the club declared that the show was a huge success. There was quantity and quality brought before the judges and the "gate" was good. More than 200 dogs were entered and there were only a few absentees.

R. Vagt's Brighton, an English setter, was the best dog of the show, and John Gant's German thepherd Flora von Sandhausen was the best of the opposite sex.

Among the Pomeranians Mrs. F. S. Allard's Pom. Little Nigger, was declared the best of the dogs, while Mrs. O. E. Lakeland's Butterfly Sunbright.

COLLEGE CHESS

Tuning Up for Annual Championship Tournaments This Month.

HARD TASK FOR COLUMBIA

With the time for the annual intercollegiate tournaments to be held in New York during the Christmas holidays fast approaching, the chees players of Columbia, Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Cornell, Brown, City College and Pennsylvania are all in active training for the two great chess events of the year. Columbia faces the task of defending the championship. In H. E. Leede, E. F. Korkus, the captain of the team, and C. Korkus, the captain of the team, and C. B. Isaacson the little and White have a trio of players whose skill does not hold out strong hopes for the success of Harvard. Yale and Princeton. Mandell and Kempf of last year's team will be absent. Ehrlich or Sterman may be chosen as the fourth member of the varsity team, with Nevitt, Saland, Clapp and Bloch among the most promising of the other candidates.

Pennsylvania and Cornell will again be the chief contenders for the championship of the Triangular College Chess.

be the chief contenders for the cham-pionship of the Triangular College Chess League, now held by Pennsylvania. The Quakers will be in a position to place a very strong team in the held, including players of such high repute as the cap-tain. B. Winkelman, Law '17: Harry Klien, Veterinary '17: E. S. Jackson and Wharton, '18: L. Horner, '19, and M. Shimsliotiz, '19.

Marchall's Brilliant Playing.

Piaying against twenty-nine opponents at the rooms of the Manhattan Cless Club, Frank J. Marshall, the United States chess champion, made the brilliant score of twenty-five victims, three draws and only one loss, which was scored by S. B. Mullen of the City College Ches Club, S. Scolowin, another scored by S. H. Mullen of the City Col-lege Chess Club. S. Seplowin, another City College player, as well as L. E. Mins and J. Finkel, drew his game. Marshall's next big affort will be to break the world's record for simul-taneous play in Philadelphia on Decem-ber 26. The existing record, which is 165 boards, was established by Marshall at Washington last spring.

On his way to Kentucky David Janowski, the French chess champion, was op-posed by twinty-one players at the Buf-falo Consistory Chess Club. After being on the train the entire day Janowski was not at his best. His final score was eleven wins, two draws and eight losses.

F. K. Perkins, champion of the Brook-lyn Chess Club, met defent at the hands of his brother, N. S. Perkins, in the fourth round of the club's annual championship tournament. The leading players are M. Schroeder, 3-2; R. T. Black and J. H. Taft, Jr. 212-114; N. S. Per-
